Dear Patrons & Partners:

This is an invitation to be a part of the "Kingsland Veteran's Memorial Park", honoring the memory of men and women who have served or are currently serving in the Armed Forces of the United States of America. Freedom is never easy, nor is it free. Many individuals have accepted the responsibility to preserve a way of life like no other on the face of this planet. Many of their contributions and sacrifices have been great. Many have suffered, and many have died. This memorial park will serve as a remembrance of the brave Americans who have fought to keep us free. Your financial donations will help us construct the "Veteran's Memorial Park", in Kingsland, Georgia, commemorating our heroes.

Since 2002, the City of Kingsland has entertained the idea of a Veterans Memorial Park. Over time, plans for the proposed park have been delayed or abandoned for one reason or another. Earlier this year, by action of the Mayor and Council, this project began to gain traction in moving ahead. A committee was formed to proceed with planning for the site. The Committee has planned a two-phased project, with Phase I being enhancement, renaming, and dedication of the existing "City Park" as the "Veteran's Memorial Park". Phase II of the Veteran's Project will include placement of a veteran's memorial statute, as well as, engraved commemorative bricks honoring friends and loved ones. Residual funding from Phase I will be carried over for completion of Phase II of the project. Development of the site will be completed funded through donations and contributions.

In hearing of our plans for the project, Mr. David Amos, an architect in St. Simons Island, became excited about helping the City with this project, and has so graciously volunteered his architectural services in preparing a concept design for the entire park project, at no cost to the City. Mr. Amos has a professional services contract with the City for architectural services and has also performed work for the Camden County PSA, including the new design for Lion's Park here in Kingsland.

Mr. Jerry Holcomb, City's consulting arborist, has agreed to work with the City on the preparation of a landscaping design and materials for the site. Landscaping is envisioned to reflect and complement the colors in the flag.
